SPOTLIGHT ON Kevin McWilliams

SERC welcomes Kevin McWilliams, our newest therapist/owner with a clinic in Clinton. Kevin grew up in and around Lawrence, KS and graduated from Lawrence High School. He was a gymnast with three state championships and has coached multiple state champions and an All-American while coaching at Washburn.

Kevin graduated from KU in 1991 with his Physical Therapy degree. He worked at the University of Minnesota Hospital and Clinics in the Sports Medicine Institute for four years. The family then moved to Clinton, where Kevin was one of two physical therapists doing outpatient work at Great Valley Memorial Hospital. Although the family only intended to be in Clinton for several years, Kevin ended up staying with GVMH for fourteen years, during which time the two-person clinic grew into three clinics and a pool. Following his time at GVMH, Kevin went to work for Pinnacle as a director in Shawnee and Overland Park. He is currently a physical therapist/owner of our newest SERC clinic, in Clinton.

Kevin is a Board Certified Orthopedic Specialist, receiving his initial certification eleven years ago and getting re-certified last year. He has taught continuing education courses addressing shoulders and functional lower extremity kinetic chain programs, as well as being involved in clinical research over the years. Kevin specializes in orthopedics, but he has worked with a lot of neuro patients and he love sports patients, as well. His latest interests lie in sports performance/enhancement programs.

Kevin's wife, Jennifer, whom he started dating his senior year of high school, has owned Ben Franklin's Bistro in Clinton for nine years. He and his wife have two children, Brogan, 16 and Ian, 14. They are living the kids' sports life, and Kevin has already rehabbed both his children. Kevin loves sports, so his hobbies revolve around his sons' games and his own love of hunting. Kevin especially enjoys duck hunting, so in November and December, you may have trouble finding him in the morning. But don't worry, he'll be back in by 10:00!
